1PM visit at the Manor house Haukka in Velkua

The owners of the Manor house Haukka have been living here since the 16th century. In the past times they lived with fishing and selling the fish products, as well as sailing. Later they also started to cultivate their fields and forests. Today the Manor house produces meat, dried flowers and tourism services. Since long time the family has developed services for travelers, protecting the traditional environment of the archipelago and taking care of the old buildings. An old windmill was renovated 1995, and in the same year the Manor house Haukka received an award for supporting the environment. In the year 2000 the Association for Finnish Farmer culture honored the owners of Haukka for keeping alive the old building traditions of the area.

The nature and the old, living traditions of the archipelago build a fantastic base for exotic experiences. The old equipment of the farmers can be seen in the private museum of the farm, and the visitors can also follow the production of the dried flowers. Old and new gadgets tell stories from the past times as well as the modern life in Haukka.

10AM departure for Seili excursion

11AM arrival in Seili

The beautiful island of Seili is wellknown for its dark history. In 1619 the island has been turned into a hospital for leprosy disease, for 165 years. The last patient dies on the island 1785. According to some old information this island has been the last home for leprosy patients already in the 14th century.

After the leprosy hospital the island was used as a hospital for mentally diseases. For some time Seili was the biggest psychiatric hospital of Finland. In the 19th century new hospital buildings were needed, and in that time huge stone buildings, which were not at all typical for the archipelago architecture, came to Seili.
